Table for one, please!

Ding-a-ling! The door opens. “Table for one, please!” says Benny Bear.

Today the kids are helping. They bring Benny a big stack of pancakes. Nom, nom, nom! Crumbs go everywhere.

“Thank you!” says Benny. And he toots all the way out the door. Toot!
Toot! Toot!

Robo zooms over. Sweep, sweep, sweep!
BONK! Robo bumps the wall and farts out a little spark. “Excuse me!”

Ding-a-ling! Here come Rosie, Felix and Freddy. The kids serve faster and faster. More plates! More crumbs! More toots!

Oh my!

Penny Pig ate a whole pie! Can you count the crumbs she left behind?

(Count them out loud. There are ten!)

Robo, are you OK?

“Robo, are you OK?” asks Rosie Rabbit.
Everyone stops. Everyone worries.

KA-BOOM!

Just then, one last plate zooms by. Robo wobbles. Robo rattles. Robo goes...

KA-BOOM!

Gears here. Springs there. A wheel rolls under the table. It is very, very quiet.

Then Freddy Frog giggles. Then everyone giggles! Everyone except Benny. Where is Benny Bear? Can you find him?

(Hint: peek behind the door!)

Everyone helps. Felix finds the gears.
Rosie finds the springs. The chef finds the wheel... in a pie!

“And friends help you build again,” says
Benny Bear. Then everyone toots all the way home. Toot! Toot! The end.

Robo loves to clean. Robo does NOT love to overheat.

Every day at the Toot Toot Diner, the customers eat, leave crumbs, and toot all the way out the door. When the kids start serving faster and faster, poor Robo gets warmer and warmer... until KA-BOOM! A gently silly read-aloud about big feelings, little messes, and the friends who help you put yourself back together.
